Environmental Biotech International has relocated its global headquarters to Bradenton. The company specializes in the treatment of drain lines, grease traps and odor control services.

Previously, the company ran a satellite office in Sarasota but has consolidated its office space to a 20,000-square-foot facility in the Manasota Office Complex at 4693 19th St. Court E., Bradenton, said Brian Dougherty, marketing spokesman.

In late June, EBi plans to launch an environmentally safe product designed to repair roadway potholes.

The company has plans for distributorships, wherein individuals can buy this product to start their own business.

EBI currently has about 30 employees and is looking to hire positions in “all facets” of the business throughout 2009, Dougherty said.

The company has operations in 11 countries. Aziz Tejpar, president, is relocating to the Tampa Bay area.
