

First Zero-to-Hero winner

Environmental Biotech UK has won catalyst Venture Partners' inaugural 'Zero-to-Hero: The VC Challenge' event for technology innovators.

The company has created a new sector in the drainage systems and waste management market based on bio-remediation, a natural biotechnology technique that is environmentally friendly. It takes total responsibility for its clients' systems, providing comprehensive, preventative drainage and waste management solutions that are said to demonstrate considerable financial savings.

Aziz Tejar beat off stiff competition to win the challenge which is set to become an annual event.
